

General Conditions of KMC Spedition OG

1. GENERAL RULES

The "General Austrian Freight Forwarder Conditions" (AÖSp) www.kmc-spedition.at/downloads.php apply in the currently applicable version as long as they do not conflict with statutory provisions or international agreements (e.g. CMR, MT, WA, CIM, Hague rules, etc.) § 51 lit b) Even in the event of gross negligence or intent, AÖSp (General Austrian Freight Forwarder Conditions) does not count as an agreement of higher maximum liability amounts than provided for in the applicable international agreements § 51 lit b) AÖSp (General Austrian Freight Forwarder Conditions) therefore does not constitute an agreement of higher maximum liability amounts in accordance with Art 25 MÜ. Furthermore, no reversal of the burden of proof according to § 51 lit b) within the meaning of § 1298 ABGB 2nd sentence is triggered. Services and offers from KMC Spedition OG are without exception, also for the future business relationships, based on these terms and conditions. Conflicting terms and conditions of any kind are expressly contradicted and are completely ineffective, regardless of the time and type of acknowledgement. Any kind of deviation from individual points of these terms and conditions is only effective and valid for them, and only if that it is expressly confirmed in writing by KMC Spedition OG. In any case, confidentiality in respect of the contractual terms and conditions of the contractual partner shall not be deemed to be accepted. If the terms and conditions do not regulate individual points, the right to dispose applies and deviations in the terms and conditions of the contractual partner are also not accepted. The maximum liability limits of the applicable transport law regulations (such as MT, WA, CIM, CMR, Hague rules, etc.) remain valid, if there should be a goods or insurance value for the transport documents enclosed with the goods as well as those issued by us, which is above the maximum liability amounts in accordance with the transport law regulations mentioned above. Exceeding the liability limit must be communicated in writing form without exception and will be agreed between the client and us before the goods are handed over; remarks in the consignment note are particularly valuable as well as written, or verbal statements of the value of the goods by the client or third parties not to override or increase the liability limits, and therefore do not count as an indication of value. For the orders placed with us, we are entitled to select our domestic or foreign partner companies of our choice. The contractual partner undertakes to comply with minimum wage regulations and regulations on minimum conditions at the workplace and provide proof of this in writing from to the request of client. The subcontractor releases the client from his liability for the minimum wage if the subcontractor or within the framework of the subcontractor or lending company's employed by the subcontractor does not pay the statutory minimum wage.
